

EXPERIENCE

2007-2011 Madhouse Creative, Designer

In a small studio setting, I became responsible for projects spanning all media, primarily print and motion. I gained valuable experience by designing identities, various print collateral, trade show booths, websites, software interfaces, TV commercials, and full length training videos. The intimate environment also allowed me to assume roles from Junior Designer to Creative Director, given the medium and skill set needed to accomplish the assignment.

I am fully proficient in Adobe CS5, including After Effects CS5, Final Cut Pro and Maxon Cinema 4D, with a working knowledge of HTML and CSS. I have had the pleasure of working for clients such as Bayer, Yahoo!, GMC/Saturn, McAfee, The Toledo Art Museum, The University of Toledo, and the The Toledo Zoo.

2007 FLUID, Freelance Designer

In January 2007, I was asked by FLUID, a Chicago based firm, to participate in their pitch to Verizon Wireless. I became responsible for the visuals for the proposed storyboard of a 30 second TV spot to air during the 2007 Super Bowl, as well as various collateral pieces and presentation boards.

2005-2006 Unigraphics, Design Intern

As a junior at BGSU, Unigraphics provided me with my first design experience in a professional setting. I became responsible for designing ads and collateral for local businesses in Bowling Green, as well as on-campus offices and the BGnews.
